

2019 National Postdoc Survey

Section 1. Introduction

Thank you for participating in the 2019 National Postdoctoral Survey. This survey was conceived and developed by postdocs to benefit all members of the postdoctoral community, and is a follow-up to the 2016 National Postdoc Survey (<https://elifesciences.org/articles/40189>). Specifically, 'postdoctoral' encompasses classical postdoc fellows and scholars in temporary training positions, post-PhD.

The information collected in this survey will facilitate identification of important issues within the postdoctoral community, informing and equipping those who advocate for policy. Unless otherwise indicated, please answer with respect to your most recent (current) postdoctoral position. All of your answers and comments are completely anonymous, so please be as honest, candid, and critical as you see fit.

We estimate that completion of this survey will take 20 minutes on average. Upon completion of the survey, you will be redirected to a site where you may choose to enter your contact information into a drawing for a chance to win a $500 travel award to a scientific meeting of your choice*.

(*Postdocs in government not eligible to accept travel award)

Again, we thank you for your time, as well as your helpful comments and suggestions.

This is an anonymous survey. Answers will not be linked to any personal information.

Section 2. Structured Supervision and Mentoring. Every postdoc experience is unique, and the specifics of research environments vary widely across disciplines. As a result, not all terminology may seem specific to your field, e.g. use of the word 'lab' (substitute research or intellectual environment) or 'advisor' (principal investigator, primary supervisor, or faculty advisor). With these terminology differences in mind, please respond to the questions as specifically as possible given your own postdoc experience. Note: the person you consider to be your primary mentor may or may not be your supervisor.
